“ I will never forget Kelly's fighting spirit. My heart goes out to her whole family.

I first met Kelly in cub scouts and then later on she and I joined weight watchers and tried to keep each other on track. Then life got in the way but we tried to stay in touch over social media. I will never forget how strong she was and how much of a fighter she was not just with her own health issues but being an advocate and great mother when it came to her boys. She will be greatly missed.
