

Melody Jane Wood

June 8, 1959 - June 6, 2020

Melody Jane Wood, 60, went home to be with her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ on Saturday June 6, 2020. Melody passed away unexpectedly, but left this earth “High on the Mountain Top and not down in the Valley.” Melody had a transformation over her life and Jesus lived well within her soul. She was blessed to have been born again. Jesus allowed her to find true happiness in life and gave Melody an opportunity to witness to others on many occasions. To God Be the Glory!

Melody was a native of Greensboro, NC, and the daughter of the late Rudolph John Wood and Ruth Wood Morton. She attended UNC Greensboro and East Carolina University, receiving her Master’s Degree in Social Work. She loved the coast. She spent time in her younger years living at the beach, but later returned to Greensboro to be close to family. Melody enjoyed reading, music, shopping, good food and fellowship. She was a true woman of God who loved her church family and friends dearly. She thoroughly enjoyed the ladies in her Women’s Bible Study group at Westover. She volunteered in many different roles over her life time, with a passion to help others. She was someone who always had a smile, hugs to give and would remind you that you were loved by Jesus Christ.

Due to the current COVID restrictions, a private graveside funeral service celebrating her life will be held Thursday, June 11, 2020 at Moriah United Methodist Church, Greensboro, NC. The service will be shared with Pastor Carroll C. Carter and Lynn Stowe. Memorials can be made to Moriah UMC or Westover Church.

“ We were so fortunate to know and grow up with Melody at Moriah Methodist Church, along with her sweet mother, Ruth, and her kind family. Melody's beauty was in the warmth of her smile and caring personality that she shared with everyone. We were lucky to see her at church recently, and enjoyed the chance to visit with her and reminisce about the wonderful years shared at Moriah, reflecting on the special people that touched our lives. Extending our sincere sympathy to her family. Melody will truly be missed.
